THE SPECIFIC CHALLENGES OF OFFICE SUPPLIES DISTRIBUTION SECTOR

PERFORMANCE

- Strong need for quick preparation response for the shortest possible lead times
- Essential need of productivity to meet with very high daily volumes
- Must be competitive in a highly competitive sector

FLEXIBILITY

- Significant number of references and catalogues with little variation
- Management of very high turnover products (reams of paper, pens, etc.)
- Large diversity of references: products that vary tremendously in size and type (stationery, furniture, food items, maintenance products, etc.)
- Large proportion of small retail orders to be hand-delivered
- Process adaptability depending on promotional operations

QUALITY

- Demanding and highly-competitive sector

“ Marketing involves acquiring new customers, logistics involves keeping them.”

FOR ALL PLAYERS IN THE SECTOR

REGARDLESS
OF THEIR DISTRIBUTION
CHANNELS

STORAGE

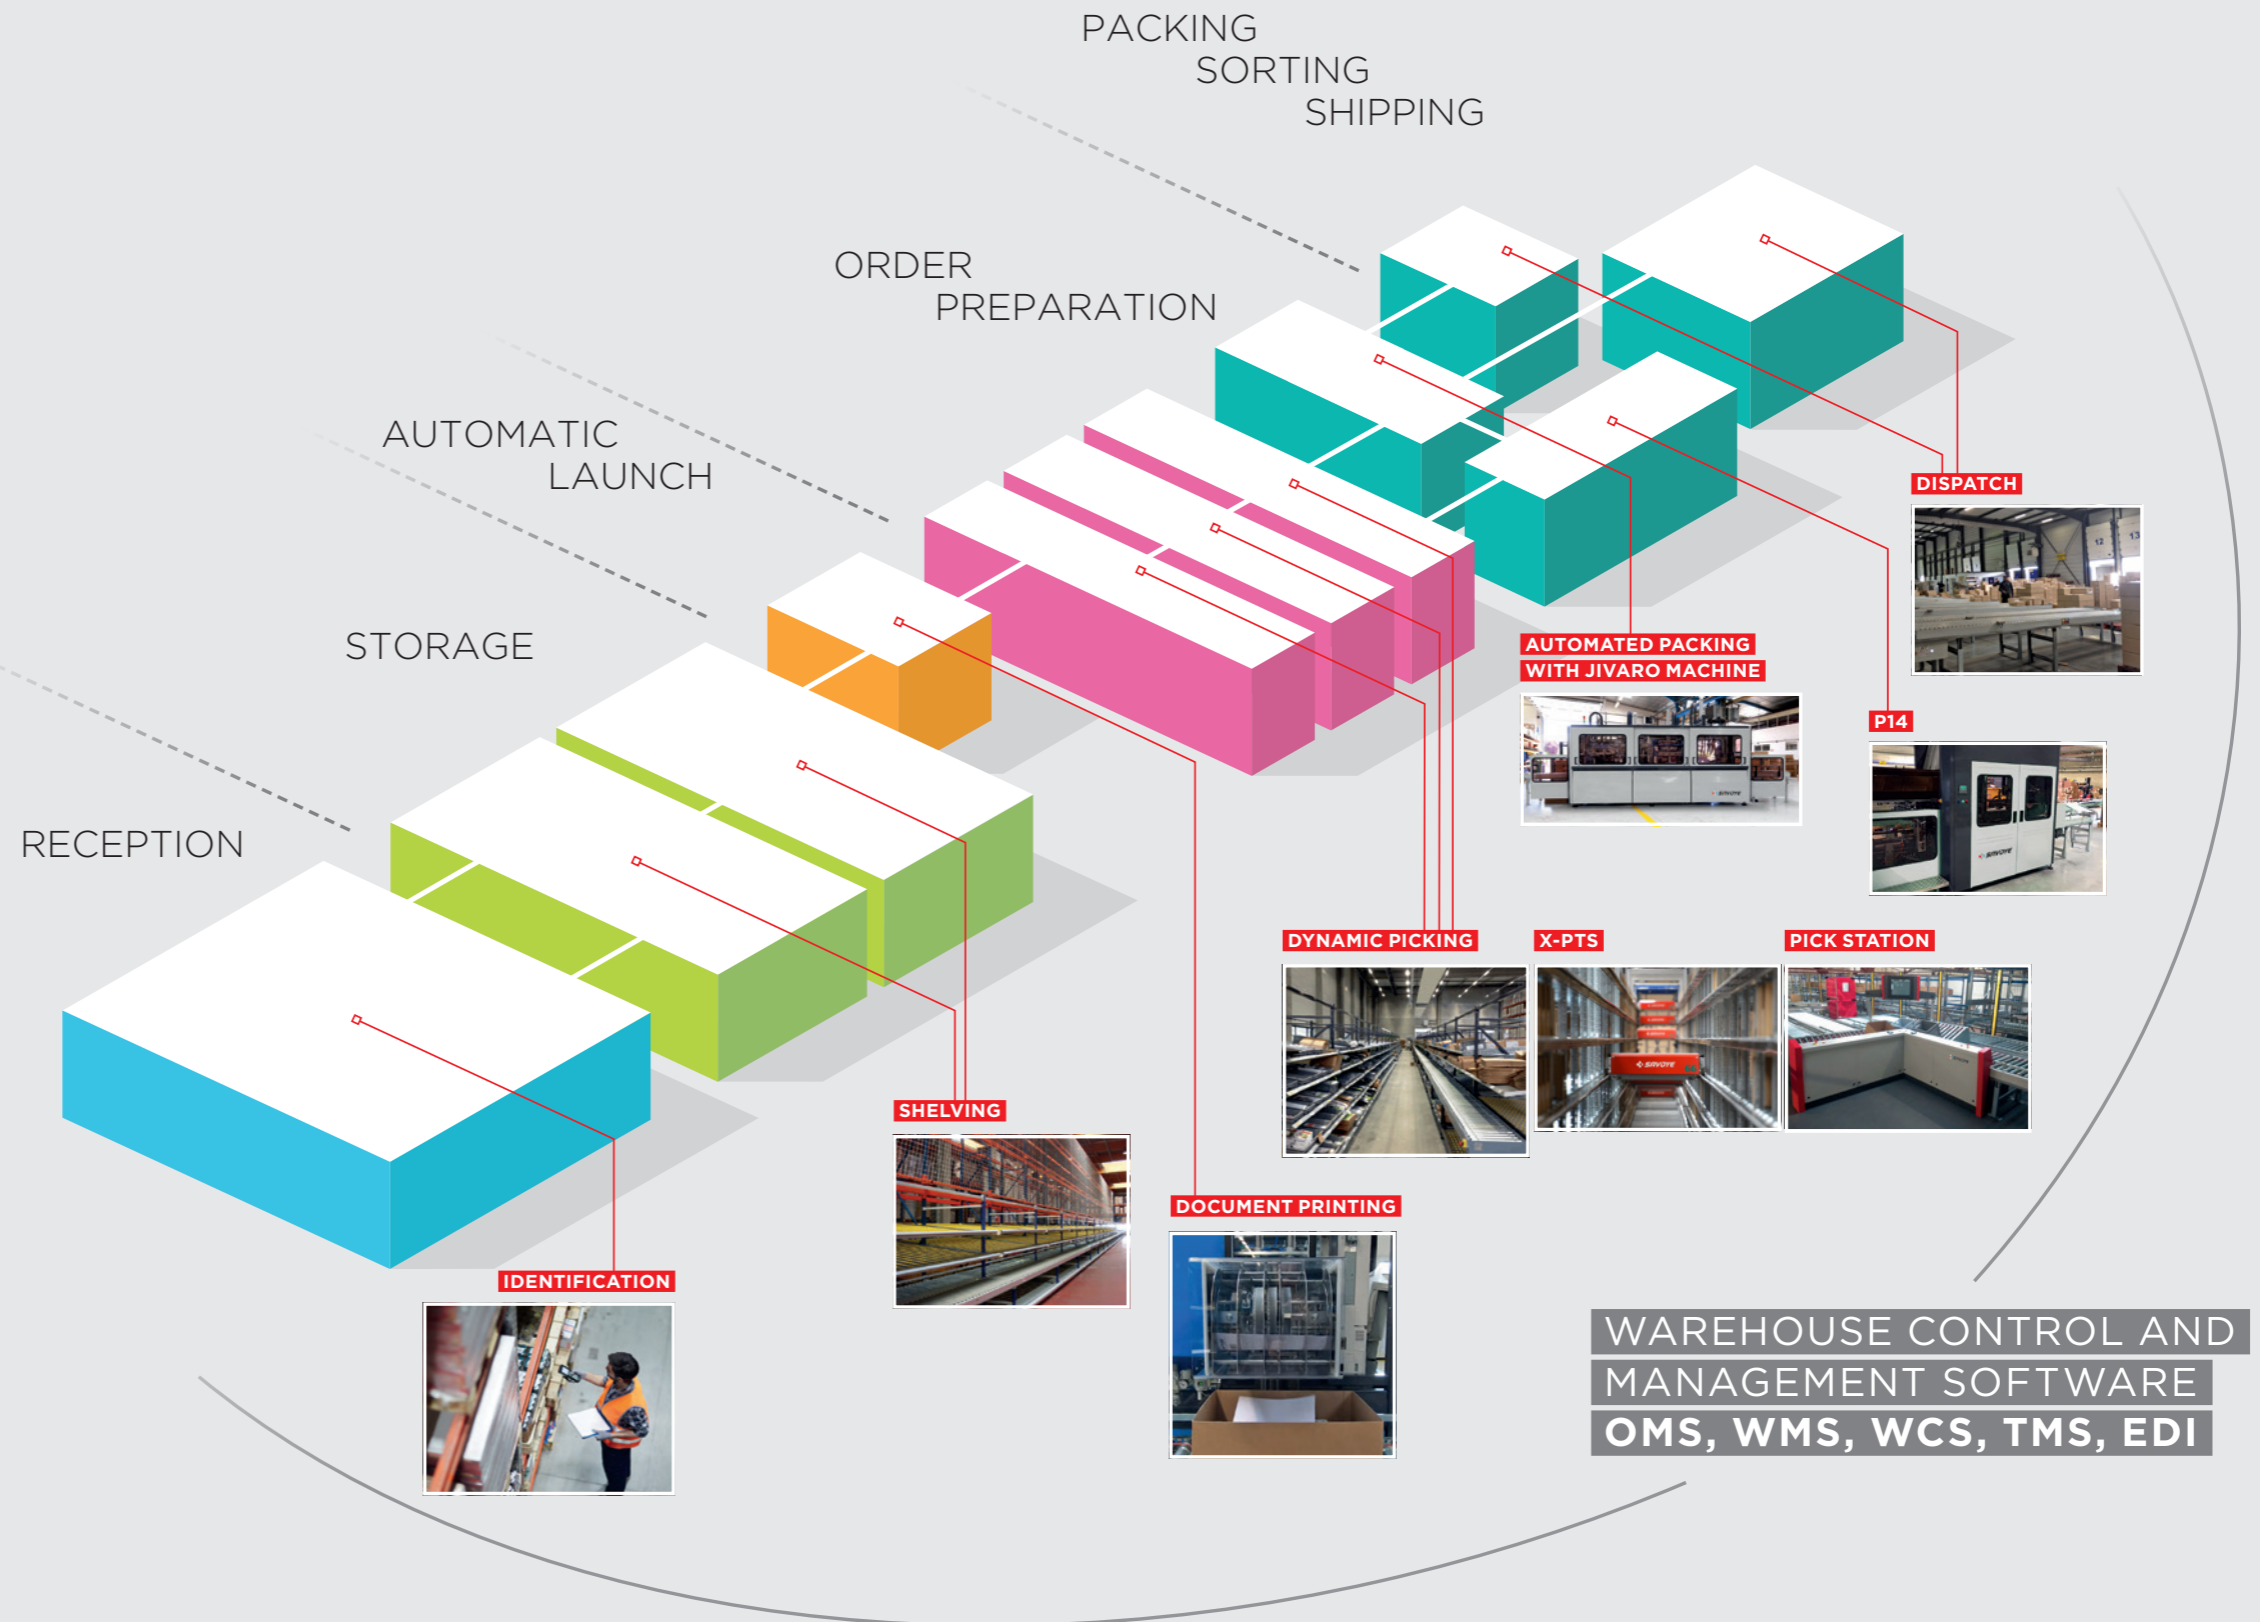

- Outsize, mainly furniture
- Taking into account special reference features (best before date, use before date, fragile, flammable or valuable products)

ORDER PREPARATION

- Stackable products, management of incompatibilities between families of items
- Scheduling orders according to logistics priorities
- Inserting documents: delivery slip, invoice, piggy-back inserts
- Management of assembly and kitting operations
- Management of ephemeral picking areas
- Retail preparation and full packages
- Picking on pallet for high-rotation products
- Priorisation heavy products vs light products
- Management of envelope preparation
- Weighing control
- Optimised pre-packaging

SHIPPING AND DELIVERY

- Adaptation of packages to the volume shipped
- Management of carrier cut-offs
- Non-catalogue products' shipping with installation of cross-docking process
- Taking different delivery methods into account: via own fleet or courier service
